

Elko County Library staff went to the Nevada Library Association Conference at the Hard Rock Hotel & Casino in beautiful Lake Tahoe in October. This year's conference theme was "Turn Up the Volume!" It was a joint conference with Mountain Plains Library Association. Members from twelve states attended.

Opening keynote speaker, Greg Harris, President and CEO of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and Museum was fantastic. He was very inspiring and definitely turned up the volume. Now, I want to go see the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in Cleveland, Ohio.

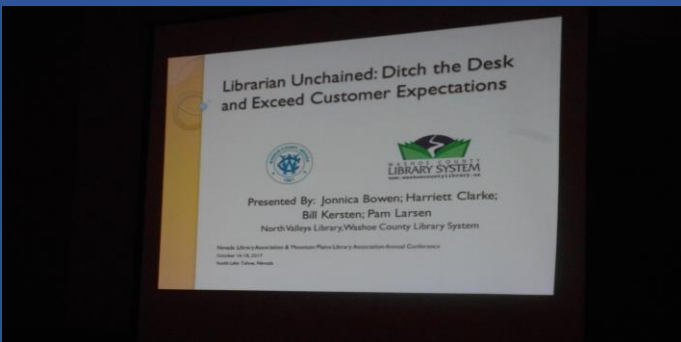

It was a lot of fun meeting new people and networking. There was so many workshops to choose from, it was hard to decide which ones to go to. The Elko County Library staff divided and conquered, so we could gain as much knowledge as possible. Day 1 I enjoyed “Cleaning up the catalog: getting your data in order.” I learned start early, weed, get very familiar with your library system’s reporting and start a list of known problems.

There were great presenters with a wealth of knowledge. We had the opportunity to meet with many vendors and see all the new technology they have to offer. We even learned about virtual reality coming to libraries throughout the state. Now with all the knowledge we gained at conference, we hope to “Turn Up the Volume” at the Elko County Library!
